Leading independent construction company ISIS recently announced the appointment of its new NSW General Manager, Peter Marix-Evans.

"The appointment of Peter coincides with a consolidation in ISIS contracts, and his vast experience in the commercial and sustainable commercial sector is exactly what the business wanted in its next phase of growth," said Gerard McMahon, Group Executive – Operations, People and Sustainability.

ISIS has just been appointed new NSW contracts worth $45.8 million, including works to the Star Casino's Manhattan nightclub and on the TLC project for the University of Sydney.

"This clearly places ISIS in a very strong position for this year and is a great achievement by the respective teams and the greater NSW branch," said Peter.

"ISIS has set sustainability benchmarks across the sector for years now, which sits right with my own focus and background."

Peter, 39, has over 23 years of experience in the construction industry, and in his previous role was the General Manager for NSW for Lend Lease, after holding a number of management positions at the company.

As Construction Manager for Lend Lease, he oversaw the first 5 Star Greenstar commercial building in Australia - The Bond, Hickson Road, Millers Point, Sydney.

ISIS has delivered many of the sustainable construction projects in Australia and is a founding member of the Green Building Council of Australia.
